She was placed in chains, denied a trial by jury, convicted by a military tribunal. Her daughter prayed for her pardon at the lixecutive Mansion. Preston King spurned her from the threshold, but he now sleeps in a salcide's grave. Jim Lane, who also aided and abutted in her death, hiew out his own brains. So ended these persecutors of innocence. Applances!

the war. It means tyranny, it was promingated that the war was languarsed for the purpose of putting down the rebellion and to restore the Union, but as the war west on this was forgotten, our rulers grew greedy of gain, became insolvent in office. The war ended, and ourseldies returned home to the pursuits of peace, but our rulers clamored for new guarantees of peace—they were not satished at the result.

The people of the South ratified the constitutional amendments to the tederal constitution. They rejudiated the Considerate debt to satisfy the dictates of their rulers. Members of Congress were elected, and everything done that could be done to satisfy the most fastishood. But another change of hase became necessary. They did not want the country at peace. These mendicants, who found themselves at the close of the war rich and prosperone, spurned peace. Congress was filled with acady at an bonds dressed in clerical garments, which they disgrace. Applianse The civilized world clamored for peace, yet these men desired war. What next? The carpetbagger must be sent out. The Freedmen's Burean must be established. Constitutional amendments must be presented for the people to indorse as a sign of their digradation. They declared at last that the people of the South were outleter digradation. They are the most tribunals that murdered without law, and hung without mercy. Applanse. They placed the negro in a position to dominate over the white race, and the people were disfrenchised. What next? The election had to be controlled in the South. In Alabams and Mississippi the colored man voted with the white man and defeated the internons plan, and now, in consequence of this, no election can be had in these States, in Virginla, in Texase, on pain of imprisonment. These men in power attempt to destroy the institute of liberty in our laud.

These men in power attempt to destroy the fast veetige of liberty in our land.

A LOOK AHEAD.

I tell the people of Shelby county tonight that mind will prevail over fully—right over might. Separate yourselves from these who desire your degradation: make the gulf as wide as that which separates Lazarus from the rich man Dives. The negroes are the dope of the infamous wretches who now rule Tennessee. Many of these villains were rebels when the fortunes of the Confederacy were in the ascendant, but who were loyal when the federal armies advanced to victory. The carpet-bag ger, at the close of the war, appeared in your midst, meek and lowly, and condescendingly agreed to held your offices, and, of course, sites! your money. If you elect Grant and Colfax the future of this country will be ruln; but it seymonr and Blair are elected, then right and justice will trimmph. (Cheers)

You citizens of Tennessee hold your right to vote by the will of Brownlow. To-day there is not a voter in Fayette senants.

Novel Services in an Episcopsi Church

From the Memphie Avain sche, 20t From the Memphie Avaluache, 20th.

The ceremonles at the Grenlaw Ope hoose on Sunday, employed on the ocseon in the service of the "Church of Blessed Virgin," in charge of Rev. J. Regess, attracted a large auditory. The concelly of introducing many of the cemonials belonging to the church, of meed by the Episcopacy, for the first the witnessed here, drew together a le runnber of Roman Catholica as well Episcepalians. The controversy known in the efficient of the efficient o number of Roman Catholios as well as Episeogralians. The controversy known as "Puseyism," originating in the efforts of the celebrated Dr. Pusey, was apread far and wide, and had numerous proselytes, who desired the return formany of the abstractioned though imposing ceremolies; among others, the rich and priestly costnine, and the stiendance of acolytes, and cencers burning inceuse, in the observance of mass. The near resemblance of the paraphermals of this mode of worship to the exercisee of the Roman Catholic Currch has met with stern and catholic Currch has met with armanon. Almong these who have cootended for this restoration of this portion of the chinch exercises that had been prefer united, is that distinguished churchment, lishen Celongo, of world-wide celabrity. The introduction of these exemumies, belonging to the Anglican Catholic Chinch, for the first time presented here, and we maders and only previously reproduced in the United States in the city New York metals.

belongity to the Anglican Catholic Church, for the first time presented here, and we understand only previously reproduced in the United States in the city of New York, must create in Epise pai circles no little excitement. Rev. J. W. Roges I a: inangurated the movement. He is fresh from the Fan-Anglican convention, or council of the Anglican Catholic Church in London, which he strended, and comes back fully imbued with the previous impressions entertained fully confirmed. His serum on the occasion of the inaguration of his favorits theory was full of enthusiasm, and frequently gushing out to long a predetermined purpose, and will maintain his part of the contoverse with vigor and perseverance. The portion of our community most interested in such matters will have the opinions and demonstrations of their spiritual guides to govern them. The eliot seems to be to restore to the Church of England forms and ceremonies not deemed essential, which, heretofore, save in the few instances noticed, confined to those who worship under the governing influence of the mother Church of Rome. How the matter may end, how warm the controversy which as likely to arise may become, we leave to the future to develop. It is something entirely ont of our 10e. ikely to arise may become, we leave to be future to develop. It is something entirely out of our rice.

The young women of Peierboro, New York, jealents of the popular epotts enjoyed by the more miscolline portion of mankind, bave organized a base hall club, and have already arrived at a creditable preficiency in play. There are about fifty members belonging to it, from which a playing nine has been chosen, headed by Miss Nannie Miller as capitain. The nine have played several games outside the town suid away from the gaze of the curious. Having thus perfected themselves, this nine lately played a public game in the town of Peierboro, as may well be supposed, before a multitude of spectators, which is thus spoken of:

"This constitutes the senior nine, and on the coasion of their first exhibition they played the junior nine of the same club. Their dress consists of short blue sad white tunics, trimmed, white stockings and stout gaiter shoes, the whole forming a combination that is at once need, easy, and exceedingly beautiful. As the two nines came upon the ground it would be hard to tell which of them had the greatest number of friends present for loud and continuous cheering and clapping of hands unarked the centre of

They planned to meet with their respective suites at the Cave on the eventful day specified. In accordance with this decision, only a few days ago there was a simultaneous fluttering of hearts and packing of 'stratogas, etc., in Hopkinswille, Ky., and in Nebraske. in Hopkinsville, Ky., and in Nebrasks City, Nebraska, hundreds of miles apart, in one of the oldest and one of the new-est States; but the electric bond of love annihilated all distance and blanded the two scenes. There might have been seen at one and the same time two joy-ous and gay companies on the eve of journeying, one from the bracing West and one from the flowery South. For-ward they speed, bearing each for the other "glad tidings of great joy."

THE MEETING.
Propitious stars guided the voyagers. almost together, at Cave City on Tuesday morning.

Reporter's peucil was never made to Reporter's jeucil was never made to depict such a tableau as that which took place at this meeting. We leave a page biank, to be filled up by the reader's imagination. Nothing else is equal to the task. With the promised wedding and work work access. I Menth of Replember, 1868, work-access. the present kies to cheer them on, the "acon-to-be-one" hastened to the Cave Hotel, where they wars welcomed with all the honors due their prond station.

FORGOT SOMETHING. In a criei like thie, a bridgegroom is allowed to be slightly absent-minded. Mr. Daveuport took care to bring a clergyman all the wap from Kansas as one of his body-guard, and did everything else, but one, pursuant to the case matri-monial. In his axtrems felicity ha for got to procure the legal briet necessary to the accomplishment of his hopes. This omission caused no little perplexity, and the hour for the nupital service had to be postponed. A trusty measuring was dispatched to the Barren county clerk, and the essential document was forth-coming at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE CEREMONY. moth Cave.

With the ald of Bengel lights the Gothic Chapel was brilliantly lliuminated, and presented a sublime appearance. At the designated moment the essembly was arranged for the marriage sembly was arranged for the marrage. The hride and hridegroom and their suites stood in front of the siter which every one who has visited the Cave will call to mind, while the spectators formed a semicircle before them, the minister occupying the central piace. Thus grouped, amid the glars of artificial light and in the stily presence of the awful cevern, that little party be held the mingling of two souls with hu a single thought. We should have to gnass to the bette same the large of the lar House of Refnge for a little boy who was to provide for his present and future wel-tere. There seemed no reason to doubt this statement, and the chairman, on the advice of an attorney, gave the applicant an order on the Superintendent of the House of Refuge, fortunately leaving tha 1862, stauding wall in his class, and is now a successful practitioner in Kanasa City. The lovely and happy brids is a daughter of Professor J. C. Campbell, of the Hopkiusville University, who la a companied by an office of the think College of the successful to t and appearance, and the Superintendent refused to comply. Subsequent inquiries disclosed the fact that the whole affair was a project of a notorious Cincirnati prostitute to ob talu possession of the boy, take him to her bagnio and employ him as a sarvant. This is often done. In the present in-stance the case is fisgreui. The orphan boy sppears to be a uephew of the court san, being her sister's only child. metter of medical politics, or one of interest only to physicleus; it concerns the welfare and prosperity of the whole city, and therefore of all who are resident here. It is not difficult for any citizen to obtain such information as will enable him to give satisfactory and sufficient answers to all who approach him on this subject. Let it be borne in mind, by the general public, thet ken incident mind, by the general public, thet ken incident and the state the great medical enter of the West. As the result of this, much of the material cepital which serves in cerich and edorn thie city was brought here and expended by medical athouts. There is no reseon why this desirable condition should not continue to exist, and, by a proper coperation on the part of all citizens, be made to yearly improve.

This cetty has had, during past sessione of the medical schoole over 400 students. These students expend, on an average, at least $300 each, making an aggregate of over $120,000 placed in circulation in less than five months. In addition to this, meny connections are made between the students and merchanty, and for years after these students leave they return to this, city, through their orders for meterial of varied cheracter, an abundant capital to the merchants with whom these relations have been established. Dearly beloved brethren: No evant in my life has been more gratifying than the present. From the cause of feebleness I must leave for home this afternoon, but I will not be outdone in affection. I will endeavor to raview the early history of Meihodism in order that the old way of conducting the business of a couference may be contrasted with the present. The Conference is the great executive power of line church, and in examining into the character and selecting your litinerent preachers, you ought to be severely circumspict—the special command recorded in Timothy was never resul in conference. I have never seen a preachar who was loose in his household affairs that was sufficiently strong in other respects. There are qualifications essential to his success as a minister of the Gospel, in addition to the mera part of being a good Christiar. To one who had leiled I would say, I send you away as a merchant would a faulty clork—not with a curse and without a blessing, but merely on the ground of incapacity. The responsibility of conference cannot be overestimated, and weeds ought not to be permitted to dwarf the growth of this more pucclous plants. The style of preaching in Methodist churches now is no improvement on the manner of early years. You do not was the sinners up was no mistake about it, for the syldence was in the heart of the sinner and gleamed in his face, as only the light of lleavan can. The Doctor then spoks of good and isorderly members of the church, and saiddit was the habit of the world to estimate the character of all hy that of the bad. He spoke of class meetings, and said the members ought to be required to attend them regularly. Many things necessary to the church must be done by the mals members. I have a slawys been a friend to women, but man, from his position, must rule, and the sisters ought to permit him to do so without objection. Dr. Pierce then concluded his discourses as follows: My brethren, I naver axpect to see you at a sgala alter this day. Forty years ago, 1, in company with five or six was no mistake about it, for the svid
